The information presented today is for international travelers arriving by air

Only some airports in Canada are airports accepting international flights:

Preparing to Travel to Canada: Can. Government

1. Download the ArriveCan App (optional) and complete an advance declaration at participating airports.

Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal-Trudeau, Winnipeg, and Halifax, among others:

ArriveCAN optional feature: Advance CBSA Declaration - Canada.ca

2. Gather supporting documents for entering Canada.

This may include (but is not limited to):

a port of entry letter of introduction that shows you were approved for a study permit, a valid letter of acceptance from NBCC, and proof that you have enough money to support yourself and any family members who come with you to Canada.

Find further recommended documents at www.nbcc.ca/travel-guide

Boarding the flight: what should you have?

- Passport
- Letter of Introduction from IRCC (study permit approval letter)
- eTA/Temporary Resident Visa (Canadian entry document)
- Proof of Medical Exam (if applicable)
- NBCC Letter of Acceptance
- NBCC Travel Support Letter (www.nbcc.ca/travel-guide)

See list on Travel Restrictions and Preparing to Enter Canada document

- You will complete a customs declaration (you can use ArriveCAN to do this in advance).
 - You will approach a counter to speak to a Canada Border

At the Canadian Border: what happens?

Even if you have been approved for a study permit, the border officer makes the final decision on your entry to Canada.

You must complete this step at your port-of-entry airport

At the Canadian Border: what happens?

Declare any currency (CAD or otherwise) and monetary instruments that you are bringing into Canada that is more than CAD $10 000

(See: Travellers - Travelling with CAN\$ 10,000 or more \(cbsa-asfc.gc.ca\))

At the Canadian Border: what happens?

Be prepared to explain your housing arrangements.
